Joy has more than a decade of experience in audit, accounting and financial reporting and is now Manager - Technical Standards for Nexia Australia and New Zealand.

As Manager - Technical Standards, Joy supports Nexia Australia's response to current and emerging financial reporting developments and advises clients and staff on the application of Australian, New Zealand and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). She also contributes to financial reporting updates, audit training initiatives and the ongoing enhancement of Nexia Australia's audit methodology.

Joy brings extensive audit, accounting and technical expertise across a range of sectors. Her experience includes advising listed entities, investment managers, managed investment schemes, not-for-profit organisations and multinational businesses on complex accounting and financial reporting matters.

Before joining Nexia Australia, Joy gained more than a decade of experience with Big 4 and mid-tier firms in Australia and the Philippines, supporting clients on audit, accounting and technical reporting matters.
