

Who we are

When we look at businesses, and the people in them, we see potential. We don't just see where you are, we see where you could be. We don't just see problems, we see opportunities. What excites us is our client's success, because we get to grow alongside them. And while we're in the business of accountancy and advice, we're actually in the business of people — because we believe that when great people are aligned, great things happen.

We are part of a leading global network, with a presence in over 115 countries and offices in every mainland state and territory in Australia, giving you access to the local skills, national depth, global reach, and overall experience to not only achieve your current goals, but have more time to think about which ones to pursue next.

At Nexia Australia our purpose is to connect you with your true potential, by giving you the accounting insight, advice, and support you need to navigate to success.

Advisory. Tax. Audit.

AIAE Inc Board

"The team at Nexia were very supportive. Not only did they guide our financial department, they took the time to help our entire school board understand the issues and provided us with a bigger picture of what we needed to know."

The Downing Family Trust

"We just wanted to find an accountant that we could trust to help and guide us with any concerns ... The team at Nexia has always made us feel that we are always supported and no question or problem is too hard to answer or solve."

Sten and Fisher Group

"Nexia has gone above and beyond in servicing our accounting needs, we have a long history with the people there who have shown dedication and trustworthiness. They are a highly skilled group, a pleasure to do business with."
